iGCSE

What is the Cambridge iGCSE?

IGCSE stands for International General Certificate of Secondary Education. Over 70 subjects are available. Schools can offer almost any combination of subjects and each subject is certificated separately.

- A Cambridge IGCSE is the formal recognition of a learner's achievement at the end of a particular subject course. The content of the course is based on an international curriculum developed for 14–16 year olds (although it can be studied by younger or older learners).
- The content of each course is created to suit a wide variety of schools and to avoid cultural bias. It helps to develop creative thinking, enquiry and problem solving skills and supports the development of the Cambridge learner attributes.
- Each qualification is made up of a number of assessments (called components), the majority of which take place at the end of the course. The methods of assessment include written papers, orals, coursework and practicals.
- Learners have to pass a particular combination of these assessments to achieve the qualification. Some syllabuses offer learners and teachers different assessment options through which to achieve the qualification. This broadens opportunities for students to demonstrate their learning, particularly when their first language is not English.
- In the UK, Cambridge IGCSE is accepted as an equivalent to the GCSE.
- The Cambridge IGCSE grades awarded are A*–G, with A* being the highest. They are designed to cover a wide ability range. Cambridge IGCSE is also available graded 9–1 in certain subjects and administrative zones – grade 7 is aligned to grade A and grade 4 is aligned to grade C.

Course Selection

Core and Extended Curricula

One of the unique features of the Cambridge IGCSE is its dual-tier structure, offering both Core and Extended curricular in many subjects.

- Core Curriculum: Tailored for the majority of students, the Core curriculum covers the essentials, providing a sound understanding of fundamental concepts. It is designed to prepare students for grades C to G.
- Extended Curriculum: For students aiming for higher academic achievement, the Extended curriculum offers additional content and prepares learners for grades A* to E.

This flexibility ensures that students with varying abilities and aspirations can achieve their best outcomes.

University

The DP is uniquely designed to support all students for success going into, and throughout, university. It is offered in a large number of schools across the world, including private, independent, international, and state-funded schools.

DP graduates are well-equipped to adjust, engage and succeed. They graduate with analytical, writing, communication and presentation skills; research experience; excellent organisation and time management; the ability to approach a topic from multiple perspectives; and a deep understanding of academic concepts. This provides an excellent foundation for them to prosper at their chosen university.

University Counselling

Students are supported throughout their High School journey, to ensure they are aware of the learning pathways available to them. They discover the differences between admission procedures and requirements for worldwide university destinations and are given key tools to research and plan their university applications.

University Counselling activities include:

- Unifrog Access
- University presentations and fairs
- Class sessions
- Individual meetings and support
- Support preparing documents and applications
- Parent and guardian presentations
